

Wonderland

Volker Bauch/Volker Bauch

*Sometimes I wake up
And I feel so insecure
World is getting harder
Much harder than it shows
When I look around me
The worries in their face
Some got illusions
Some are full of hate*

*Let's cross the border
And see what's going on
So different people
From where they are belong
Everybody is looking
For the chances of his life
A daily struggle
On the way to paradies*

*There a pictures in my mind
Show a life of misery
This world is big enough
To give the people what they need*

*And I'm holding on
No matter what they say
'Cause it's moving on
Ev'ry minute ev'ry day
Nothing left to loose
So thake each others hand
This could be the way to wonderland*

*That's what you're looking for
A right for everyone
But one thing you should know
Love is not a word
Like letters in the sand*

*A piece of heaven
That's what you're looking for
A right for everyone
But one thing you should know
Love is not a word
Like letters in the sand
Love gives you courage
And a chance to understand*

*So I close my eyes again
In my dreams I drift away
Dreaming of a better world
For you and me to stay*

*And I'm holding on
This could be the way to wonderland*

This is what we all would need again
